Bird mobiles

You will need:

Bamboo canes, coat hanger, small twigs, collection of cones, seeds, grasses, feathers, nuts, string or strong cotton

Method:

You can use a cone to make the body, stick on two feathers for wings, use grass as a tail, and an acorn or large seed for the head.

Allow the Joeys to use their imagination in putting together whatever had been found to make the bird mobile.

Do not make any too heavy or they will not balance when hanging on the mobile. Alternatively, take the larger ones that the Joeys make and tie them in a single line.

This is a great activity on a camp, as the Joeys have time to look for lots of different and interesting items and the parents are available to assist with some tricky designs and making the mobile frames.
